I am a Researcher at Dalle Molle Institute for Artificial Intelligence (IDSIA): I am interested in Biomedical Image Processing, Computer Vision and Computer Graphics.

On this site you can find my current and past projects, publications and teaching activity and materials.

{xtypo_info}News: some of my research on motion blur analysis was covered in a short article on the April 2009 issue of the New Scientist magazine! (printed version, online version).

The same topic is also covered in the BBC Focus Magazine .{xtypo_info} Download my full current curriculum vitæ / résumé:
